

Save-the-date! Workshop on US Research Funding Opportunities for EU Researchers

Monday, 27 October 2014, 10 am – 4 pm: Regus Brussels
Central Station Koloniënstraat 11, 1000 Brussels, 1st floor

Please save the date for the BILAT USA 2.0 Information Day that will take place in Brussels on Monday 27 October from 10am – 4pm. The workshop is organized as an activity of BILAT USA 2.0, a project funded by the European Union under FP7, with the aim to enhance EU-US Science and Innovation cooperation.

The US is one of the top-ranked countries in technology, innovation and R&D expenditures and many European researchers and institutions have developed strong research links with US researchers and their institutions. However, some opportunities within US federal funding programs, such as NIH (National Institutes of Health) and NSF (National Science Foundation), may not be well-known in Europe, and European researchers and research managers may not be familiar with the specific application processes & grants management procedures required by US federal research funding agencies. Therefore this workshop will:

- Promote awareness of US federal research funding opportunities for European researchers
- Strengthen European institutions' expertise in applying for and managing US research funds
- Provide case studies of research collaboration between US and European institutions

Topics that will be discussed with experts are:

- US Federal Research Funding – How to Apply, with specific focus on NIH and NSF
- Managing US Federal Research Awards with specific focus on NIH and NSF: What a European Institution Needs to Know
- Case Studies of Transatlantic Research Collaboration from a European perspective

BILAT USA 2.0 is happy to welcome the following experts:

Vivian Holmes, Director, Sponsored Research Operations, Broad Institute of Harvard and MIT, and President, National Council of University Research Administrators (NCURA)

Patricia Hawk, Director, Office of Sponsored Programs, Oregon State University, and Immediate Past President, NCURA

Eva Björndal, Post-Award and Financial Compliance Team Leader, Karolinska Institute, and Chair of NCURA's International Region

Regina Notz, Senior Research Manager, ETH Zürich / University of Zürich

The workshop addresses the whole European research community (researchers & research managers, administrators). Registration for the workshop will be free of charge. Please note that spaces are limited and a pre-registration is required via the following link: https://secure.pt-dlr.de/pt-conference/conference/BILATUSA_Brus, Registration deadline: 17 October 2014.

Further information on workshop, agenda and speakers will soon be made available here: <http://www.euussciencetechnology.eu/content/bilat-usa-20-workshop-us-research-funding-opportunities-brussels>